What's new in the Woods this week!

- Many thanks to the WWS PTA for sponsoring our first ever WWS Principal's List Bagel Breakfast this past week. We celebrated 41 deserving WWS students honored for either meritorious deeds, achievement, citizenship, or all three! We look forward to another celebration in the Spring.
- Thank you as well to the PTA for a wonderful QU hockey game last Friday. Having QU decisively beat UMASS 4-0 was a really nice addition!

- Kindergarten students have been practicing measuring objects using non-standard measuring tools as they learn to express mathematical concepts.

- According to WWS resident astronomer Alan Page (and Sky and Telescope) the Geminid meteor shower is set to peak at 7:30 AM EST on December 14th, when Earth plunges through the thickest part of the trail of dust and debris left behind by the asteroid 3200 Phaethon as it orbits the sun. Take a look just before dawn tomorrow morning!

- Please remind students to dress warmly for recess. We monitor temperatures and wind speed for safety but do try to ensure that students enjoy time outside when weather permits.
- As always, check out the West Woods PTA Website for updated news and events!

Please enjoy the rest of the week!
